

NO to homogeneous media!

One of the founding principles of the United States of America is the ideathat it is beneficial to the American people to have a diverse media that expresses the full spectrum of political ideas. Over time, FCC rules that required media to provide equal time to opposing viewpoints were eliminated, leaving diverse ownership of media companies as the only solution allowing for dissenting opinions. However, the trend towards large media conglomerates insures that it is not only possible but EASY for a single company or individual to have complete editorial control over all of the media that a person might be exposed to. By removing the last rules preventing this, the FCC is sounding the death knell of legitimate discussion of opposing viewpoints on the nation's airwaves. Please, preserve the American tradition of diverse expression and strike a blow against homogeneous media.

Sincerely,
